

How You Can Help

If your life has been touched by cancer, you may wish to become involved in doing something positive to help. You can do so by donating time to raise funds or by supporting the work of organisations that help those affected by cancer or undertake cancer research.

Cancer Council ACT is a notfor-profit, non-government organisation which relies on community support to fund its programs. It is the only cancer organisation in the state that provides for all aspects of cancer – medical research, education programs and patient and family support services.

It works within an evidence based paradigm. The Council is the ACT member of Cancer Council Australia – the peak body for cancer control in Australia.

You can make a difference to the level of services provided by making a bequest in your will, becoming a regular donor or participating in one of our fundraising events such as Daffodil Day, Australia's Biggest Morning Tea, Pink Ribbon Day or Relay for Life.

You may like to give some of your time as a volunteer. Give our fundraising team a call for more information.
